52 NATHAN BILLINGS PALMER, son of Nathan and Salome Smith, was born in Stonington, Ct., Aug. 27, 1790, died in Indianapolis, Ind. Apr. 13, 1875. (Fam. Rec.)

He and his wife moved to Potter Co., Pa., in 1812. They settled on Ayer's Hill. Nathan was first county clerk. (Beebe) In April, 1816, he was appointed by the court with Issac Lyman and P. Knickerbocker and others to lay off a road "from a point on the state line through which the Genesee River passes, and in a southern direction to the Jersey Shore Road near the Ten Mile Tree." (Angelica Rd. (Welfling)) (Leeson 1006-7). According to one of his step-brothers the family remained in Potter Co. until late 1818, when they joined other emigrants, including his mother and step-father, to Indiana. They embarked on the Alleghany River in flatboats, which they were forced to abandon for six weeks near Wheeling, when the Ohio River froze. They reached Madison, Ind., then a village of one thousand, the first or second of January, 1819. In 1824 the family moved to a farm in Jefferson County, where they lived for fourteen years. He was chosen to represent the county in the state legislature, and elected speaker of the House in 1833. Elected state treasurer in (?) 1834 he moved to Indianapolis. He appears in Lockerbie's Assessment List, 1835, as living on Lot 1, Square 68, with personal property valued at $400. He paid $2 taxes. He was elected to the State Bank and branches in 1841. The family record boasts: "This office he was admirably fitted for and many anecdotes are still extant as to his shrewdness and skill in detecting attempted evasions or deceptive devices on the part of cashiers and bank officers." He was president and chief executive officer of the first railroad in the state, the Madison and Indianapolis Railway, for which Samuel Trumbull Gillette was a civil engineer before he entered the ministry. He built a hotel known first as the Palmer House, later the Occidental, which he personally ran from 1841-1851. It was on the southeast corner of Illinois and Washington Sts. He was married to Chloe Sackett Sept. 29, 1811, in Madison Co., N.Y. by Rev. Simeon Gillette. Nathan Billings Palmer is buried at Crown Hill Cemetery, Indianapolis. Moved from Greenlawn Cemetery, April, 1877.

108 PETER LAREW

His father's will of 1790 mentions son Peter's three children; so does his (Pater's) brother Reuben's will of 1810. It has been surmised that Peter died before 1790, but family records list six brothers: James of Baltimore, Abraham of Cincinnati, born May 14, 1777, John La Rue of Rising Sun, Ind. William La Rue of Athens, O., Jacob La Rue of Athens, O., and George La Rue of Cincinnati, whose children were Frederick and Catherine Amelia, Springfield, O.

110 DAVID DOUGLASS, son of William and Elizabeth Mathews, was born in Chanceford, York Co., Pa. 1755, died in Logansport, Cass Co., Ind. , Aug. ^{2nd} , 1839. He was commissioned ensign, June 17, 1779, of Capt. Thomas Manery's (McNary) Co., Col. John 8th Btn. Laird's Regt. of York Co. Militia. "He became Lieutenant of this company when in 1783 it became 3rd Company (Capt. Thomas Gowan or McGowan) 8th Btn., according to return of Aug. 18, 1786." He served in battles of Kingston, N.Y., Brandywine, Siege of Yorktown. He was a member of first class inhabitants of Chanceford. He served in the Whiskey Rebellion. In his accounts of 1794, Capt. David Douglass notes: "September ye 22d, 1794, Pay and Rations Commenced." Two days later they marched from Col. Laird's to York Town. He mentions receiving $ 282 from Mr. Bussell brigade inspector for the use of his company, eight camp kettles, seven blankets, eight napsacks and 22 canteens. In camp at Carlisle, Oct. 10, he received 49 stand of arms and accouterments and two Napsacks. He received 234 Catridges of Col. Daniel May, 40 flints and 4 gun screws from Q.M. Hann. The last entry quoted is Dec. 6, (1794) when Samuel Collins , Lieut, received $25, and James Duncan, Ensign, $20. His son William of Logansport, Ind., preserved the accounts in David's handwriting.

York Co. Deed 2 O 229: 11 May, 1799 Capt. David Douglass and Jean, his wife, of Chanceford to Gabriel Baker of the same place for L 454.ii.4, tract of 161 A. 102 perches in Chanceford, part of which was surveyed to the grantor by virtue of Application No. 5440 for 150 A. dated 17 Apr., 1769, the other part purchased by the grantor from William Matthews. York Co. Deed 2 P 1400 6 May, 1799, David Douglass releases to James 22 A. 78 perches taken from survey... Application 5440, 17 Apr. 1769.

David was in Xenia, Greene Co. , O., 1810, according to Robinson. He was a carpenter and fought in the War of 1812, under Capt. Steele. He moved to Logansport, where he is buried in the oldest cemetery in Cass Co. He married (1) Jean (Jane) Buchanan, Aug. 18, 1785. He married (2) Eliza Reay, May 1, 1806.

3424 & 3432 STUKELY 1 WESTCOTT was born in 1592 (Somerset, England?) died Jan. 12, 1667/8, Portsmouth, R. I., at the home of his grandson, Caleb Arnold. He married Juliana Marchant Oct. 5, 1619, at St. John the Baptist Church at Yeovil, Somerset. He is called "Stucklie Westcott of Ilnminster" in the parish register, in which the births of their first two children are recorded. He and his wife and six children set sail from Dartmouth, Devon, May 1, 1635, arrived in Massachusetts Bay June 24, 1635. The family of William Arnold was on the same ship. He settled first at Salem (Naumkeag), second oldest settlement in New England, where he was made freeman in 1636. Two years after Roger Williams was banished from Salem Westcott was ordered by the General Court to leave the colony. He followed Williams to Providence. On Aug. 8, 1638, he was one of the twelve "loving friends and neighbors" admitted to ownership of the land purchased from the Indians in 1636. William Arnold and John Greene were among the twelve. These three were among the founders of the first Baptist Church in America, Mar. 1638/9, after Stukely and his wife had been rebaptized by Roger Williams, whereupon they were excommunicated by the Salem church. In 1647 he moved from Providence to Warwick (Shawomet) where Gorton and his associates were attacked by a company sent from Boston to expel the settlers. He was one of the nine taken to Boston and imprisoned, after defending their blockhouse for two days, 1643. Roscoe L. Whitman gives many details of his life and public service, which lasted until 1672. His son Robert was killed by the Indians in King Philip's War, 1675. Warwick was burned, with the exception of one house, Mar. 16, 1676, by the Indians. He died after making a will, which he was unable to sign, and was buried beside his wife in the first public burial ground in Warwick.

with John Hicks and lived at Weymouth two and a half years, then in R. I. Soon he "went away to the Dutch" with most of her estate. Robert Stanton and his wife were witnesses to the Quaker marriage of Herodias and George Gardiner. In 1653 she went "with her babe at her breast" from Newport to Weymouth to give religious testimony. The result was her removal to Boston and Gov. Endicott's sentencing her and her companion, Mary Stanton, to be whipped with ten lashes. She was then imprisoned for 14 days. Afterward she "kneelod down and prayed the Lord to forgive You." (Bishop's "New England Judged") She and George separated by May 3, 1665, when she petitioned the Assembly that for her estate and labor as George Gardiner's wife for the last eighteen or twenty years "he may allow it me, and the house upon my land I may enjoy without molestation, and that he may allow me my child to bring up, with maintainance for her, and that he be restrained from troubling me more." "The American Genealogist" Vol. 21, p. 193 states that she was George's commonlaw wife and that they were both fined by the Assembly. Later she married John Porter, who conveyed much Pettyquanscut land to her children c. 1671-3.

3448 & 3454 STEPHEN 2 ARNOLD, son of William and Christian Peak, was born Dec. 22, 1622, Ilchester, Somerset, England, died Nov. 15, 1699, Pawtuxet, R. I. He married Sarah Smith Nov. 24, 1646. He went to Pawtuxet Falls, R. I., 1647. He was deputy-governor of R. I. at intervals, 1664-90, assistant off and on, 1672-98. He had a garrison house at Providence. The Coweset purchase was land he divided between his sons during his lifetime. Memorials of him and his wife were moved to Swan Point Cemetery, Providence.

3452 CAPT. JOHN 2 GREENE, son of Surgeon John and Joan Tattersall, was baptized Aug. 15, 1620, died Nov. 27, 1703. He married Ann Almy. With three others he built a mill to grind the town corn, 1651. He held many offices: commissioner, 1652-63, general recorder, 1652-54, general solicitor, 1655, attorney general, 1657-60, assistant at intervals for thirty years, deputy off and on for fourteen. He was made freeman, 1655. He and John Clarke were chosen to go to England for vindication of the charter before His Majesty and redeem the same from injurious violations thereof by the Colony of Connecticut. He was one of the judicious inhabitants whose advice the Assembly sought in April, 1676. From 1683 to the time of Andros he was "Major of the Main" (major general). He was notified by Gov. Andros Dec. 22, 1686, that he had been appointed to his council. He was among those who sent a letter of congratulation to William and Mary Jan. 30, 1690, and informed them that since the deposing of Andros the former government under the charter had been resumed. He was deputy governor 1690-1700. His will of Dec. 20, 1706, was proved Dec. 20, 1708. He called himself an inhabitant of Greene Hole, or Occupasituxet, R. They sailed from Cowes, Isle of Wight, on the "Arabella", one of the Winthrop Floet, Mar. 29, 1630, reached Salem June 12, Boston June 17. During the voyage Robert served as secretary to Gov. Winthrop, according to Rev. Paul Parke writing in 1763. He went to Roxbury, then in 1639 with his son Thomas to Wethersfield, Conn., where he was deputy to the General Court, 1641-2. Robert went to New London in 1649 and stayed for six years. His new barn, which stood at the corner of Hempstead and Granite Streets, was used as the first house of worship. People were called to service by a drum beat. He was appointed by the Massachusetts General Court to help organize the town of Stonington, 1650. He served in early colonial wars. His death was noted by Thomas Minor in his diary.

6733 MARTHA CHAPLYN was baptized Feb. 4, 1534/5, Smer, Suffolk Co., England. Since no mention of her has been found in America, it is supposed that she died in England. Parks says that she was the daughter of William who was buried in Smer Oct. 15, 1629, while Wheeler claims that her father was Capt. Robert Chapen, and that she married Robert Parke in Edmundsbury, England.

6734 JOHN THOMPSON of Little Rising, Northamptonshire, England, died between Nov. 1626 and Apr. 1627. He married Alice Freeman.

6750 JOHN HOWLAND was born about 1593, died Feb. 23, 1672/3 at Plymouth, Mass. He married Elizabeth Tilley at Plymouth about 1623. They were both passengers on the "Mayflower" which sailed from Plymouth, England, Sept. 16, 1620. During the voyage "that lustie yonge man", John Howland, was washed overboard. He was saved by catching hold of a "topsail halliard", which he clung to though "sundry fathoms under water" until he was hauled back on board with the help of a boat hook. He was thirteenth signer of the Mayflower Compact, and listed as a servant of John Carver. He was one of the ten "principal men" sent out from Cape Cod Harbor to select a place for a settlement. He was chosen a member of the "Councell". John Howland and his "Companie" received the fourth lot at the public court in 1627, and "Raghorne", one of the four "heyfers" brought over in the "Jacob". He held various public offices, served as deputy of Plymouth at the General Court eleven times between 1652 and 1667. He was in charge of a trading post on the Kennebec River in Maine at the time of the Hocking murder. The Howlands lived at Plymouth after their marriage. In 1633 a group under John Howland and others founded Windsor, Conn. He and his wife moved to Rocky Nook, now part of Kingston, in 1633. His will is in Plymouth Colony Wills and Inventories III, Pt. 1, 49-54. Birth order is uncertain of children: 3375 Desire

6896 & 6903 WILLIAM 1 ARNOLD, son of Nicholas (Richard, Richard, Roger) and Alice Gully (daughter of John and Alice) was born June 24, 1587, at Ilchester or Lenchington, Somersetshire, England, and died in 1675 or 1676 in R. I (Newport or Providence). He married Christian Peake in 1610. His father, who had been an apprentice tailor for seven years, established himself as a merchant tailor in Ilchester, with his son William as assistant. William was warden of the Church of St. Mary, Ilchester. He and his family sailed May 5, 1635, on the ship with Stukely Westcott from Dartmouth to Massachusetts Bay. He went to Hingham, Rehoboth, Providence with Roger Williams in 1636. One of the thirteen original proprietors of Providence, and one of the organizers of the first Baptist Church in America, he moved in 1638 to Pawtuxet with his two sons, his son-in-law William Carpenter, and nephew Thomas Hopkins. In 1642 he subjected himself to the Massachusetts government. He was appointed to "keep the peace". In 1648 Massachusetts ordered 7 pounds, 2 shillings paid to him in wampum or such other commodities as he desired since the "Court is grateful to him for his care and pains herein." He acted as Indian interpreter, once for Sachems Pomham and Watapunkoon in a case brought against them by Sachem Ninicraft. The Pawtuxet settlers reunited with Providence in 1658. During King Philip's War he was carried to his son Stephen's garrison.

6905 FRANCES LATHAM, daughter of Lewis Latham, gentleman, and Elizabeth, of Elstow, Bedfordshire, England, was baptized Feb. 15, 1609, died in 1677, and was buried in Newport Cemetery. She married (1) Lord Weston, (2) William Dungan, (3) Jeremiah Clarke, (4) Rev. William Vaughan. Her father, falconer to Princes Henry and Charles, served under Sir Patrick Hume. He was sergoant of hawks in 1627. Her uncle, Simon Latham, wrote "Lathan's Falconry; or The Faulcon's Lure, and Curo." William Dungan lived in the parish of St. Martin in the Fields. (After his death ?) Frances' home was in Covent Garden on the east side of Bedford St. She married Jeremiah Clarke in 1637. The Dungan children went with them to America. Lewis Latham's will appoints his wife, Winifred, executrix, and names these children: Henry, John, Ann Seagar, Frances Clarke, Katherine Garrett, Elizabeth Bibble, Ellen Sherringham.

6904 JOHN LGREENE, surgeon, son of Richard (Richard, Robert) was born Feb. 9, 1596, (at Bowridge Hall, Gillingham, Dorsetshire, where his father and grandfather lived?) and died in Jan. 1653 in Conimicut, R. I. He married (1) Joanna Tattersall, Nov. 4, 1619, St. Thomas Church, Salisbury, Wiltshire, where he was a surgeon, (2) Widow Alice Daniels, (3) Phillip. He and his family sailed from Southampton on the "James" May 4, 1635, and arrived in Boston June 3. He moved to Salem, then Providence in 1637, where he was an original proprietor, one of the twelve to whom Roger Williams deeded land bought from Canonicus and Miantonomi. He was in contempt of court in Providence. In 1643 he and ten others bought land from Miantonomi which was called Shawomet (Warwick). In the same year he refused to go to court when summoned. The following year he went to England to obtain redress for his wrongs. Successful in his mission he returned in 1646. His will of Dec. 28, 1653, was proved Jan. 1, 1659. His wife was executrix except in matters of difference between the testator and William Arnold, which his son John was to attend to.

Author's Note: Heartfelt thanks go to all who helped me, particularly Kathryn Hunter and Ruby Parke Anderson. I plan to expand these notes. The first addition is the marriage of Raymond Robert Ruppert, Jr., to Mary Regina Murray, daughter of William Mong and Sarah (Stock) Murray, June 20, 1959, at St. Ann's Church, Washington, D. C.
